FREEDOMWHEELS.ONLINE

Eight Templates. One Complete Toolkit.

01

Each template turns a chapter of The Budget Launch into a working document — use the sequence below, from understanding your customer to setting the perfect price.

Print & fill by hand
Work through each blank with a pen during workshop sessions.

Duplicate & type
Copy the file, type your answers, and keep a digital master.

Keep as reference
Revisit every template each launch cycle — they improve with use.

01
Customer Persona
Profile your ideal buyer — demographics, psychographics, buying behavior.

02
Competitor Matrix
Map five rivals on 11 criteria and expose the gap you can own.

03
Sales Page Copy
A fill-in-the-blank skeleton for a landing page that converts.

04
Email Sequence
Five welcome emails that deliver value before they sell.

05
Content Calendar
Thirty days of ready-made post ideas across four platforms.

06
Financial Projections
Track revenue, expenses and break-even month by month.

07
Partnership Outreach
A proven script plus a tracker for collaborators and affiliates.

08
Price Testing
A six-step framework to find the price that maximises revenue.

All examples are hypothetical and illustrative. These templates are part of The Budget Launch — Complete Bundle (R199) and are not for individual resale.

Profile the One Customer You Serve

02

The more specific the profile, the sharper your marketing. Fill every row for a single ideal customer — never "everyone".

DEMOGRAPHICS	YOUR ANSWER
Full name (hypothetical)	e.g., Thabo Molefe
Age	e.g., 32
Location	e.g., Soweto, Johannesburg
Occupation	e.g., Freelance graphic designer
Income range	e.g., R8,000–R15,000/month
Education	e.g., Diploma in graphic design
Family status	e.g., Single, 1 child
Gender	e.g., Male

PSYCHOGRAPHICS	YOUR ANSWER
Biggest goal	"Build a stable freelance income of R20,000/month"
Biggest fear	"Not being able to pay rent if clients don't pay"
Values	Independence, financial security, family time
Interests	Design trends, tech gadgets, soccer
Media consumption	YouTube, Instagram, WhatsApp groups, podcasts

TOP 3 PAIN POINTS

1 ..... e.g., "Clients don't pay on time"

2 ..... e.g., "I don't know how to price my work"

3 ..... e.g., "Finding new clients is exhausting"

Steal their words. Write answers in your customer's own language — pull phrases from WhatsApp groups, comments and reviews, then reuse them in your ads and sales page.

How They Discover, Pay and Decide

03

Buying behavior turns the persona into marketing decisions: where to show up, how to price, and what proof to publish.

BUYING BEHAVIOR	YOUR ANSWER
How they discover products	e.g., Instagram ads, WhatsApp recommendations
Preferred payment method	e.g., EFT, SnapScan, PayFast
Price sensitivity	e.g., R99–R299 without thinking; R500+ needs justification
Decision-making style	e.g., Impulsive for small purchases; researches big ones
Trust factors	e.g., Reviews, friends' recommendations, seeing the creator's face
Objections you must answer
Best time to reach them

EXAMPLE SNAPSHOT

Thabo, 32 — Soweto

Freelance designer earning R8,000–R15,000/month. Dreams of R20,000/month; fears late-paying clients.

Finds products on Instagram · Pays via SnapScan · Comfort zone: R99–R299 · Trusts faces + reviews

Ad targeting
Show up only where your persona already consumes media — skip the rest.

Offer pricing
Match their comfort zone first; justify bigger prices with proof.

Trust building
Publish your face, collect reviews, and offer a simple guarantee.

Message matching
Mirror the exact pain-point words in headlines and scripts.

Map Five Rivals. Find the Gap.

Rate the same 11 criteria for every competitor — the pattern in their weaknesses and complaints is your opening.

CRITERION	COMPETITOR 1	COMPETITOR 2	COMPETITOR 3	COMPETITOR 4	COMPETITOR 5
Name
Website / URL
Price range
Target customer
Main offering
Strengths
Weaknesses
Customer complaints
Payment methods
Response time
Gap I can exploit

Summary: What gap in the market did you identify? ..... Write it in one sentence — it becomes your positioning statement.

From Headline to Solution

05

Fill the blanks top to bottom — every section answers one question your buyer is already asking.

01 · HEADLINE

[Benefit-focused headline that promises an outcome]

e.g. "Turn Your Business Idea Into a Practical Launch Plan in One Weekend"

02 · SUBHEADLINE

[Supporting claim that elaborates on the headline]

e.g. "Learn how to choose an online business model, define your first offer, and plan customer outreach — without spending a fortune."

03 · PROBLEM

You want to [desired outcome], but you [current obstacle]. Every day you wait, [consequence of inaction]. The problem isn't [common misconception] — the real problem is [actual problem].

04 · SOLUTION

[Product name] is a [product type] that helps you [outcome] by [mechanism].

e.g. "The Budget Launch is a weekend planning guide that helps you launch online by walking you through one focused task at a time."

Rule of thumb: one idea per section. If a sentence does not move the reader toward the solution, cut it.

Proof, Price and the Close

06

The bottom half of your page removes doubt: show proof, state the price plainly, and make the next step obvious.

05 · BENEFITS

What you'll learn / receive:

- [Benefit 1] — e.g., "Choose a business model that fits your budget"
- [Benefit 2] — e.g., "Define your first offer in 30 minutes"
- [Benefit 3] — e.g., "Plan your first customer outreach with scripts"
- [Benefit 4] — e.g., "Track your progress with printable worksheets"

06 · PROOF

[Testimonials — if available.] If not, use your origin story:

e.g. "I created this guide after [X years] of [experience] helping [customer type] in South Africa."

07 · PRICING

[Product name] — R[price] — [what's included]. List exactly what the buyer gets.

08 · CTA

[Button text] — e.g., "Get Instant Access"

Below the button: "Instant download. 7-day money-back guarantee."

09 · FAQ

Q: [Common objection] — A: [Reassuring answer]
Q: [Common objection] — A: [Reassuring answer]
Q: [Common objection] — A: [Reassuring answer]

e.g. Q: "What if it doesn't work for me?" — A: "You're covered by the 7-day guarantee."

10 · FOOTER

[About you + contact info + affiliate disclosure + refund policy link]

Answer objections before they're asked. Every FAQ entry should neutralise one reason to leave — price, trust, effort, or timing.

The 5-Email Welcome Arc

07

Send one email every 1–2 days after someone joins your list. Each email delivers value first — selling only starts at email 4.

EMAIL 1 · DAY 1

Welcome + Deliver

> "Welcome to [brand] — here's your [free resource/product]"

Goal: deliver what you promised + set expectations for the series.

EMAIL 2 · DAY 3

Story + Value

> "The mistake that cost me R5,000 (and how you can avoid it)"

Goal: build connection through story + deliver value.

EMAIL 3 · DAY 5

Educational

> "The one formula that changed how I price my services"

Goal: teach something valuable that builds trust.

EMAIL 4 · DAY 7

Soft Pitch

> "A resource that might help you"

Goal: introduce your product without hard selling — "no pressure".

EMAIL 5 · DAY 9

Urgency + Final Value

> "Last tip from me (for now)"

Goal: deliver final value + gentle reminder about your product.

Batch-write in one sitting
Draft a full week of emails in a single session, then schedule them.

Personalise every first line
Use [Name] plus one detail from how they signed up.

Track replies and clicks
Move engaged readers onto your best offers first.

Subject line formulas

- "The mistake that cost me R5,000"
- "The one formula that changed X"
- "A resource that might help you"
- "Last tip from me (for now)"

Cadence: 5 emails across ~9 days. Keep every subject line specific and curiosity-driven, and end each email with exactly one action.

Steal These Two Openers

Emails 1 and 2 set the tone for the whole relationship — deliver instantly, then show them you've walked their path.

EMAIL 1 · WELCOME + DELIVER

Hi [Name],
Welcome! Here's [what they signed up for]: [link].
Over the next few days, I'll share [what to expect — e.g., "3 tips on launching your first online business in SA"].
Talk soon,

[Your name]

EMAIL 2 · STORY + VALUE

Hi [Name],
When I started, I [story about a mistake — e.g., "bought R5,000 worth of tools before talking to a single customer"].
The lesson: [what you learned — e.g., "validate before you build"].
Here's how you can avoid the same mistake: [actionable tip].

[Your name]

EMAILS 3–5 IN ONE LINE EACH

3 Educational: teach one useful concept, work an example, tell them to try it themselves.

4 Soft pitch: why you built [product], 3 key benefits, the link, and "no pressure — the free content will keep coming".

5 Final value: your last tip, the deeper path via [product], and "whatever you decide, I'm rooting for you."

SEQUENCE RULES

- Space emails 1–2 days apart
- Every email delivers value first
- No hard sell before email 4
- One CTA per email — no more

Four Pillars, Thirty Days

09

Rotate four content pillars so your audience learns, believes, connects and buys — without burning you out.

Educational

Tips, how-tos and advice that make you the go-to voice in your niche.

13 of 30 posts

Inspirational

Success stories — yours or others' — plus motivation that keeps followers rooting for you.

5 of 30 posts

Promotional

Product mentions, offers and discounts — direct, but always wrapped in value.

6 of 30 posts

Personal / BTS

Your journey, workspace and process: the behind-the-scenes content people remember.

6 of 30 posts

One post a day

The 30-day calendar on the next two slides gives you a ready idea for every single day.

Batch on Sundays

Write a week of captions in one sitting; schedule them and reclaim your evenings.

Repurpose everywhere

One educational post becomes a Facebook update, a LinkedIn carousel and a WhatsApp tip.

The 4-1 rhythm: for every promotional post, publish roughly four value posts — that ratio keeps your audience engaged instead of sold to.

Your First 15 Days, Planned

Post daily. Swap platforms to fit your audience — the pillar mix matters more than the exact channel.

DAY	PILLAR	PLATFORM	CONTENT IDEA
1	Educational	Facebook	"3 mistakes SA entrepreneurs make when starting out"
2	Personal	Instagram	Photo of your workspace + caption about your journey
3	Educational	LinkedIn	"The R1,000 startup budget breakdown"
4	Promotional	Facebook	Share your product/guide link
5	Inspirational	Instagram	"You don't need R50,000 to start. You need R1,000 and one weekend."
6	Educational	WhatsApp Status	Quick tip about validating ideas
7	Personal	LinkedIn	What you learned this week
8	Educational	Facebook	"How to find real problems people want solved"
9	Promotional	Instagram	Product highlight with benefits list
10	Educational	LinkedIn	"SA payment processing options compared"
11	Inspirational	Facebook	Success quote + personal commentary
12	Personal	Instagram	Behind-the-scenes: creating your product
13	Educational	WhatsApp	"The 5-conversation rule for validation"
14	Promotional	Facebook	"This weekend, launch your business. Here's how: [link]"
15	Educational	LinkedIn	"Pricing psychology for the SA market"

Days 16–30: Keep the Momentum

The second half leans into your story and your offer — by now your audience knows you, so invite them in.

DAY	PILLAR	PLATFORM	CONTENT IDEA
16	Personal	Instagram	Your morning routine / work setup
17	Educational	Facebook	"Free tools every SA entrepreneur should use"
18	Inspirational	LinkedIn	"Your first R1 is worth more than your first R1,000"
19	Promotional	Instagram	Limited offer / discount code
20	Educational	WhatsApp	"How to accept payments in SA without a merchant account"
21	Personal	Facebook	What went wrong this week + what you learned
22	Educational	LinkedIn	"The offer formula: I help [X] solve [Y] through [Z]"
23	Inspirational	Instagram	"Start ugly. Refine later."
24	Educational	Facebook	"How to find customers on WhatsApp"
25	Promotional	LinkedIn	Product link + testimonial (if available)
26	Educational	Instagram	"3 free design tools for SA entrepreneurs"
27	Personal	Facebook	Your story: why you started your business
28	Educational	WhatsApp	"How to price your first offer"
29	Inspirational	LinkedIn	"The best time to start was yesterday. The second best time is now."
30	Promotional	All platforms	"Get The Budget Launch guide: [link]"

Track Every Rand, Month by Month

12

Estimate three months ahead, then replace estimates with actuals — the trend matters more than any single number.

ITEM	MONTH 1	MONTH 2	MONTH 3
REVENUE
Product sales
Service income
Affiliate commissions
Other income
Total Revenue
EXPENSES
Hosting / domain
Data / connectivity
Tools / subscriptions
Marketing / ads
Payment processing fees
Other expenses
Total Expenses
Net Profit / Loss

PER-CUSTOMER ECONOMICS	VALUE
Average price per sale
Cost to acquire one customer
Cost to deliver (per sale)
Profit per sale
Break-even number of sales
Target monthly sales
Target monthly revenue

BREAK-EVEN, WORKED EXAMPLE

Monthly fixed costs R450 ÷ profit per sale R150 = 3 sales/month to break even. Everything after that is profit.

Sunday ritual: replace one estimate with an actual every week — trends beat single numbers.

TOOLKIT 07 · PARTNERSHIP OUTREACH SCRIPT

One Script, Ten Conversations

Personalise the first two lines — generic outreach gets ignored. Then log every message so follow-ups never slip.

13

INITIAL OUTREACH MESSAGE

Hi [Name],

I'm [your name], founder of [your business]. I've been following [their business/content] and I really like [specific thing you admire].

I'm reaching out because I think there's a natural fit between what you do and what I offer. [Explain the connection in 1–2 sentences.]

I'd love to explore a collaboration — maybe a [guest post / cross-promotion / affiliate partnership / joint webinar]. Would you be open to a 15-minute chat this week?

No pressure if the timing isn't right. Either way, keep up the great work!

[Your name] · [Your website/WhatsApp]

REALISTIC RESPONSE EXPECTATIONS

10–20%	of outreach messages get a reply
5–10%	lead to an actual conversation
2–5%	result in a real partnership

Don't take silence personally — people are busy. Follow up once after 5–7 days, then move on.

PARTNER	DATE	REPLY	TYPE	STATUS

Set It, Run It, Measure It

Test two prices with real traffic and let the numbers choose — never guess what the market will pay.

STEP 1 · INITIAL PRICE

Initial test price: R..... based on:

Competitor pricing research · your cost break-even · your perception of value · SA market willingness to pay

STEP 2 · TEST PARAMETERS	VALUE
Test duration	e.g., 14 days
Traffic source	e.g., Facebook group post, LinkedIn
Expected visitors	e.g., 100–200
Expected conversion rate	2–5% (digital products average)
Expected sales	2–10

STEP 3 · TEST A — PRICE 1: R.....

Visitors	.....
Sales	.....
Conversion rate	.....
Revenue	.....
Refund requests	.....
Customer feedback	.....

STEP 4 · TEST B — PRICE 2: R.....

Visitors	.....
Sales	.....
Conversion rate	.....
Revenue	.....
Refund requests	.....
Customer feedback	.....

Compare, Decide, Commit

Let revenue and satisfaction make the call — not your attachment to either price.

STEP 5 · METRIC	PRICE A	PRICE B	WINNER
Total revenue
Conversion rate
Revenue per visitor
Refund rate
Satisfaction (of 5)

STEP 6 · DECISION FRAMEWORK

A Higher price + similar conversion: use the higher price.

B Lower price + much higher conversion but lower total revenue: use the higher price.

C Lower price + much higher conversion AND higher total revenue: use the lower price.

D Refund rate above 10% at either price: improve the product before lowering the price.

Important: don't change prices based on fewer than 10 sales. Small samples are misleading — wait for the full test window before you decide.
